

PERS COSBY, WILLIAM
SOE 4087.4 "ISPY"

PHILADELPHIA, PA.
INQUIRER

M. 603,438
S. 983,643

JUL 15 1965

Screening TV

Hollywood Trip Reveals Host of Philadelphians

By HARRY HARRIS
Of The Inquirer Staff

AS USUAL, Philadelphians
figured in our annual warm weather trek to Hollywood.
Comedian-turned-a c t o r Bill

Cosby, puffing happily at a big cigar during an NBC press conference, reported that his co-starring CIA agent in "I Spy"
is definitely a Philadelphian.

"There are Philadelphia references all through," he claimed. "In 26 shows you may only hear 13 lines, but other times
I'll be wearing a Temple sweat-ter and reading The Inquirer."

He's still planning to return here.

"If I'm a success in the series
and then make many movies and become a millionaire," he promised, "I'll buy a $35,000
house on South st."

He tendered us a special token of friendship as a fellow Philadelphian and Temple alumnus—
one of those king-size cheroots.